Automatic Vehicle Identification (AVI) offers the opportunity to identify vehicles in various traffic situations in a secure, reliable and cost-efficient way. Different applications like electronic toll collection, access control and speed control, can benefit from AVI.

A corresponding RFID tag in the license plate secures it as a government-issued document, protecting them from forgery and duplication. RFID readers could also determine which vehicles had a stolen license plate.

Recommended Products for Automatic Vehicle Identification

- UCODE DNA: UHF Tag IC for Secure Authentication
View our complete solution for Automatic Vehicle Identification.

Note: The information on this document is subject to change without notice.